

Arts Council Brings Family Art Activity to Innis Library

On a rainy Wednesday afternoon, January 25, three representatives of the Arts Council of Pointe Coupee traveled to the Innis Library for a fun art activity with parents, grandparents and children of various ages. Sarah Fabre, Arts Council board member and local artist, facilitated the hands-on activity which involved twelve children and seven adults. Betty Woody and Gale Roy led a helping hand along with two library staff members.

With a new year beginning participants were asked to select a word to create an inspiration banner using fabric squares, stencils, markers, paints, string and beads. Among the words of inspiration were excel, create, joy, love, inspire, play, and practice. Each participant selected a piece of fabric and began to embellish it however they wanted. The beautiful artistic banners can be hung on the door to a room or on a wall as a reminder of an inspirational focus for this year.

The Arts Council would like to thank each participant, as well as the library staff. Information about the upcoming Petite Gallerie and Treasures of Pointe Coupee was shared with participants. Go to the Arts Council's website for more information about the Arts Council of Pointe Coupee and its activities (www.artscouncilofpointecoupee.org).
